JULY 27, 2019 • BLOG

We recently got an opportunity to listen to the music track titled 'Sunsets At The Ranch' by an inspiring and passionate artist Rob Georg. He always comes up with something unique and exciting. And this time he is into the world's most beautiful phenomenon 'Sunset'. It's actually a country song about sunset.

And if you have gone through his previous track 'Time for some ink' then this new single 'Sunsets At The Ranch' will amaze you as well, it's yet another exciting number. Many people today do not take the time to watch the sunset and enjoy it together so this track gives them an opportunity to feel the nature.

It's a very professional and energetic track. I would say a full power pack. The song starts with a melodious and engaging tone. You will feel compelled to listen to the track. The singer has a dynamic and inspiring voice and it has a strong vocal projection. Best thing about this track is the simplicity. Being very close to the nature the lyrics will take you into a soothing mood. The track is simply done and not overly complex, that makes it more appealing.

The chorus is impressive, the pitch range varies, making it rich and engaging. The song definitely is professional and creative. We find 'Sunsets At The Ranch' extremely good and music video is perfectly directed with a matching theme. And the singer has perfectly utilized his talent. The music, lyrics and production everything has been done exceptionally well in this single.

You will surely love it !!
